

Rabbit Vaccinations

At St James Vets we want to ensure we are offering you the best preventative healthcare for your rabbit.

We are now offering a new vaccination, called Yurvac, against the highly virulent form of Rabbit Haemorrhagic Disease (RHD).

The current vaccination we use (Nobivac Myxo-RHD plus) offers some protection against RHD-1&2 but Yurvac is licenced to provide immunity against the new highly virulent strain that has been seen in Europe.

We do not yet know if this new strain is circulating in the UK, but the recommendation from rabbit experts is to have both the original (Nobivac Myxo-RHD plus) and the new Yurvac vaccination as a precaution.

These two vaccinations can be given at any time of year, with a minimum of 2 weeks between them. The cost of the Yurvac vaccination, including consultation, is £50

If you would like your rabbit to have the Yurvac vaccination, please get in touch with our Walter Road branch and we will book you in. 01792 643906
